

Consider how I love Your precepts;
Revive me, O LORD,
according to Your lovingkindness.
The sum of Your word is truth,
And every one of Your righteous ordinances.”
is everlasting.
-- Psalm 119:159,160

Caleb Durnan exhorting the crowd
during the opening
Christ's Church in Great Falls, MT

“For truly in this city there were gathered together against Your holy servant Jesus, whom You anointed, both Herod and Pontius Pilate, along with the Gentiles and the peoples of Israel, to do whatever Your hand and Your purpose predestined to occur. And now, Lord, take note of their threats, and grant that Your bond-servants may speak Your word with all confidence, while You extend Your hand to heal, and signs and wonders take place through the name of Your holy servant Jesus.”

Quotation of the week:

“Not only did Jesus give Himself on the cross, but He was totally triumphant because He was raised from the dead. By contrast, where is Moses? The last we heard, Michael the archangel and the devil were arguing about his body. And when Moses and Elijah appeared in a glorified state on the so-called mount of transfiguration, the message to the apostles there was to listen to the voice of the Son of God. And He still speaks - from heaven!” -- Glory in Galatians, “The Authority of Christ”

Reasonings from Revelation

The Testimony of Jesus

The apostle John often appears as simply an onlooker in the tremendous visions recorded in the book of Revelation. But sometimes, he shows up in his own visions. After John hears the mighty “Hallelujah’s” to Him whose judgments are righteous and true, and the shouts of rejoicing over the marriage of the Lamb to His bride, the angel (one of those who had the bowls of wrath) speaks to John directly, saying that John was to write, “Blessed are those who are invited to the marriage supper of the Lamb.” The angel further commented, “These are true words of God” (Revelation 19:9). This was a great way to emphasize the heavenly significance of the ultimate union of Christ and the church.

- Attempt at worship – When the angel finished his comment about the “true words of God,” the scripture records John as saying, “And I fell at his feet to worship him” (Revelation 19:10). This is an example of the type of worship the patriarchs engaged in and is the basic meaning of “worship.” When the Mosaic covenant was established, “worship” then moved to the Israelites’ participation in the activities at the temple during feast days. New covenant worship is the spiritual prostration of the saint’s inner man, raised and seated with Christ in the heavenly places, before the One who sits on the throne!
- The angel’s response – When the apostle tried to fall down and worship the angel, he said, “Do not do that; I am a fellow servant of yours and your brethren who hold the testimony of Jesus.” True worship is reserved for God alone, as the devil found out in his attempts to tempt Jesus in the wilderness. It is interesting that the angel would designate himself as a “fellow servant.” The tested and trusted apostle John is accorded an equal standing with the angel, but so are the brethren who will “hold the testimony of Jesus” without wavering, regardless of the intensity of the pressure or the brutality of the persecution.
- The spirit of prophecy – The angel communicated to the apostle John that he was not worthy of worship. “Worship God,” is the clear and obvious instruction. The brethren who were also fellow servants were those “who hold the testimony of Jesus.” Then the angel added, “For the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.” The “spirit of prophecy”... The purpose of the entire prophetic Word of God, the Bible, is to testify concerning Christ.

The purpose of the entire prophetic word of God is to testify concerning Jesus!

What a revelation! Genesis 1:1 through Revelation 22:21 is all about Jesus! The very first recorded command of God, “Let there be light,” was pointing to the light of Christ shining in the inner man of the Christian (2 Corinthians 4:6,7). The destruction of the rebellious sons of men in the Flood of Noah’s day, and the corresponding salvation of the righteous, prefigured immersion into Christ to save saints from the wrath to come upon the wicked of the world. Abraham was the father of the faithful, and in his “seed” all the nations would be blessed. God promised to raise up a “law giver and judge” like Moses. Joshua, the great general, foreshadowed the future “Joshua” and ultimate Conqueror of the forces of evil. Samuel was the first to hold the office of prophet in a long line of prophets, setting the stage for the Prophet who was to come. David, the great king, was a foreshadow of the Christ, the Anointed One and King over true Israel. The nation of Israel’s history — its rise, its decline, its captivity, its restoration from captivity, its dispersion, its synagogues — were all orchestrated and recorded so that the base for Jesus’ coming in the flesh might be believable and effective. His life on earth, His crucifixion on behalf of the lost souls of mankind, His resurrection, His appearances, and His ascension (and all that is connected with that event), all these are presented in the gospel accounts and in the other books of the New Testament.

“The testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy”!!
