

Then the LORD said to Moses, “Go to Pharaoh, for I have hardened his heart and the heart of his servants, that I may perform these signs of Mine among them, and that you may tell in the hearing of your son, and of your grandson, how I made a mockery of the Egyptians and how I performed My signs among them, that you may know that I am the LORD.”

Quotation of the week:

“Send out Your light and Your truth,” cried the seer (Psalm 43:3). “I have come as light into the world,” said Jesus, in answer to that appeal, “that everyone who believes in Me may not remain in darkness” (John 12:46). Everyone! Gentile as well as Jew! “We all,” said the apostle Paul, behold “as in a mirror the glory of the Lord” (II Corinthians 3:18). This glory, however, the eye of sinful man may not see. Only “in Christ” is the veil removed. “For God, who said, ‘Light shall shine out of darkness,’ is the One who has shone in our hearts to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Christ” (II Corinthians 4:6). “For with You is the fountain of life,” prophesied David. “In Your light we see light” (Psalm 36:9). -- The Gospel According to Psalms, “Light to the Gentiles”

Reasonings from Revelation

Judgment Day!

Babylon the great harlot has been judged. The beast and the false prophet have been thrown into the lake of fire and brimstone. Even the dragon himself has been cast into that burning lake after he and his forces surrounded "the camp of the saints and the beloved city" at the close of the "one thousand years" (discussed earlier following comments on Revelation chapter three). These judgments all occur at Jesus' coming, but they are broken out as separate judgments for the understanding and encouragement of the saints. Now the only judgment that remains is the judgment of mankind.

- The great white throne – The apostle John describes the next phase of chapter twenty's vision: "And I saw a great white throne and Him who sat upon it, from whose presence [face] earth and heaven fled away, and no place was found for them" (Revelation 20:11). A key question is, who is sitting on that throne? Jesus Himself, in an intense conversation with the Jewish hierarchy, stated, "For not even the Father judges anyone, but He has given all judgment to the Son, in order that all may honor the Son" (John 5:22). Clearly it is Jesus who is seated on that throne, as the apostle Paul also noted, "For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ" (2 Corinthians 5:10). [Something to think about: the apostle Paul also stated, "For we shall all stand before the judgment seat of God" (Romans 14:10). The judgment seat of Christ is also the judgment seat of God.] When Jesus returns in His glory (the face of Christ is also the glory of Christ; consider Moses' asking to see God's glory in Exodus 33:18-20), then the material universe will be vaporized; earth and heaven will have "fled away."

- All the dead – In general, man has been avoiding accountability to God since the day that Adam tried to shove the responsibility for his sin off on Eve. But there is no avoiding that accounting on Judgment Day. "And I saw the dead," John records of this vision, "the great and the small, standing before the throne, and books were opened; and another book was opened, which is the book of life; and the dead were judged from the things which were written in the books, according to their deeds" (Revelation 20:12). The deeds of all, great and small, are recorded in the books, and there are no accounting errors.
- The "sea" and Hades – It is written, "And the sea gave up the dead which were in it, and death and Hades gave up the dead which were in them; and they were judged, every one of them according to their deeds" (Revelation 20:13). When a non-Christian dies, his spirit and soul together go to Hades (Old Testament – Sheol). So, Hades is giving up its dead (presumably this would include the non-Christians who received their resurrection bodies at Jesus' second coming). And the "sea?" In Revelation 4:6, there was "a sea of glass like crystal" near the throne. In Revelation 15:2 there is a "sea of glass mixed with fire" and the victorious saints are depicted as "standing on the sea of glass, holding harps of God." It is the author's opinion that the "sea" of Revelation 20:13 is this sea, and that, as Hades gave up the dead in it, even so Paradise gave up the dead in it (presumably including those transformed at the last trumpet). "And death and Hades were thrown into the lake of fire. This is the second death, the lake of fire" (Revelation 20:14).

The first "death" was the spiritual death of Adam for disobeying God's command not to eat the forbidden fruit. It was his separation from God because of his sin. The "second death" is eternal separation from God for failure to have those sins covered by establishing fellowship with God on His terms. "And if anyone's name was not found written in the book of life, he was thrown into the lake of fire" (Revelation 20:15). This is the "hell fire" spoken of by Jesus (Mark 9:48).

Be sure your name is written in the book of life, and be sure to keep it written there!
